Every year on the last day of school, which was always June 14 or Flag Day, the girls of our class marched and twirled batons, up and down the streets surrounding Elm Place.

We all got really good twirling those batons!

Thank you Mrs. Broming!

The Green Elm

Graduation Day Approaches

By Laura Winston and Kay Speyer

The climax of the eighth grade year is rapidly nearing. This is, of course, graduation the day when students and teachers alike rejoice. The graduation exercises will be held at eight o'clock on June 12th, 1963, in the Elm Place Jesse Lowe Smith Auditorium.

The graduation music will be directed by Mr. Charles Reed, who is new at Elm Place this year. Peggy Quisenberry, of sixth grade, and Kathy Eichler, of eighth grade, will be the accompanists.

At eight, the eighth graders will march in to the Auditorium and take their seats on the stage. Everybody will stand up to sing the Star Spangled Banner. The invocation will be given by Rev. Holder from the Trinity Episcopal Church. Then the announcement of the class gift will be given by the class president, Bob Sanford.

The presentation of the class to the High School will be given by Mr. R. G. Weber, business manager. The acceptance of the class will be by Mr. James T. Hayes, a member of the faculty at the Highland Park High School. A speech to welcome the class will be given by Miss Nancy Pollock, student of the Highland Park High School.

Next the class will sing "You'll Never Walk Alone," by Rogers and Hammerstein. Dr. C. O. Dahle, Superintendent, will give the presentation of the Class to the Board. The most exciting moment will be the awarding of the hard-earned diplomas by Mr. Hiram L. Kennicott, Jr. who is president of the Board of Education.

The people receiving the diplomas are listed as follows:

Betty Sue Adelman, Charles K. Altholz, James Raymond Altman, Thomas Lloyd Andersen, Polly Jo Andres, Betty May Aten, Robert O. C. Ayers, Jeanette Louise Badal, Jeffrey Allen Benchley, George Alexander Berube, Jr., Deborah Ann Block, Patricia Blosten, Jacqueline Broida, Claudia Agnes Brown, Linda Lee Campbell, Charles Edward Cochran II, Louis E. Following this, the class will sing "No Man Is An Island" by Whitney Kramer. Then the benediction by Rev. Ray Holder after which the last song, "Bless This House" by Mary Brack will be sung.

The graduates will then leave the auditorium and proceed to the party at the Recreation Center, which will be

The Student Council Election

By Susie Shure and Mary Engelman

A new way of voting for the Student Council Executive Board was introduced by Dr. Zabka this year. A list of all eligible sixth and seventh graders, approximately 130 people, was passed out to the sixth and seventh grade students. They were instructed to vote for five people in each grade.

In the seventh grade, the person with the most votes became president. The person with the second-most votes became vice-president. The person with the third-most votes became secretary.

In the sixth grade, the person with the most votes became treasurer and the person who came in second became sergeant-at-arms.

The new method was found to be very successful. The results were as follows:

President Beth Moscs
Vice-president Ginger Moss
Secretary Jane Kirshheimer
Treasurer Joan Dobkin
Sergeant-at-arms Tina Barr

Eighth Grade Class Gift

by Lynn Kleber

In the past, the graduating class at Elm Place has been known to present the school with a gift as a memoir of the class. This year is no exception. The eight hundred dollars in the eighth grade treasury has been divided up for five gifts. Three hundred dollars is being used to purchase a new spotlight for the auditorium. Also, two hundred dollars will be used for a portable public address system. The other three gifts, each one hundred dollars are, new books for eighth grade library, overlay skeleton for science room, and a donation to the cancer society. Because of the many gifts, the graduating class of 1963 will long be remembered at Elm Place.

in our honor.

So the grammar school doors close behind us as we enter the new doors of High School. We will think back of the past and into the future, but we will "remember always the day we graduated from Elm Place School."

That'll Be the Day

Linda V.

I'll certainly be glad to return to Highland Park again and see all our grade school buddies, Isaac, Linda excitedly, addressing ^{her} ~~his~~ roommate Laura Winston. Laura looked a bit worried. She confided in me that she was a bit worried about leaving her job as a disc jockey for W. L. S. radio. After all, she was famous all over the world as Laurina, the Laughing Ayena. We were to stay at Miss Sari Kadison's house, the now famous artist and writer, especially known for her look Me and My Big Mouth.

We stopped for a soda at ^{what} ~~was~~ formerly Penny's now changed to Patty's soda shoppe. Who should be the soda jerk but George Beurbe. The waitress taking our order was Margy. Of course, the first place we wanted to visit was Elm Place. We eagerly looked forward to seeing "good ole" Mrs. Kramsky, who should be in her place but Miss Schwant, rapping on the desk for quiet. "If it's one thing I can't stand," she told us, "it's noisy children."

Hailing a cab we discovered the cabbie to be Steve Halperin. All cabbies are up on the latest news and he informed us that Steve Skidmore was forced to move to Mexico because he was overrun by white mice. Joel Epstein was to perform ~~on violin~~ one of his own compositions at Orchestra Hall that night. Chipper had finally given up go-carts after receiving twenty-two tickets from policeman Muskrat Werrenuroth. Betty Aten and Georgia Knapp were operating a very successful hair bleaching beauty salon. Kay Speyer had a spider circus and John Kunde had a crowley farm.

We bid farewell to Steve and went on to the beach.

Ronnie sat in the lifeguard's chair waiting for some action.

Walking down the beach a ways
we came upon Susan Redfield and Janet Whitten. They informed us that Donald

Peterson was the Cul's star player and they actually were in last place. Ray Kolder was the Secretary of Defense under President Jeff Herbst. David Palmer had moved to Colorado and Cathy Wayne had lost her freckles on a voyage to Antarctica.

Barbara Schmit is now a famous acrobat in Beverly Webb's circus.

After a most exciting day we retired at Bonnie Schniders motel.
